

Motivational Moments in 2012 Olympic Track and Field (Motivational Moments in Track and Field)

Motivational Moments in 2012 Olympic Track and Field is designed to inspire, encourage, motivate, and teach valuable life lessons. The athletes profiled are ordinary people who used extraordinary desire to accomplish extraordinary things in London. Each athlete began simply with a dream, which developed into a belief in themselves. They personify the Olympic philosophy there are no great people, rather there are great challenges that ordinary people are forced to meet. Their stories offer hope that we too can dream and reach beyond our perceived abilities to achieve. Read 75 stories of featured athletes who overcame adversity to excel during the 2012 Olympics, such as Lopez Lomong, a former Lost Boy of Sudan who competed in his second Olympics for the United States, and Manteo Mitchell, who broke a bone in his leg during the 4x400-meter relay but finished the race for the USA. Stories such as Sanya Richards-Ross winning her first gold after years of battling illnesses and disappointment, and Kelli Wells, who took Olympic bronze in the 100 meter hurdles, overcoming a difficult childhood to achieve success at the highest level. Also featured in this book are 15 stories of international track and field superstars who shined in London, including Mo Farrah, who won the 10,000 meters and 5,000 meters, becoming the first British man to win either title, and David Rudisha, who won historic 800 meters gold, breaking his own world record and becoming the first Massai warrior to win gold. Each story can be read in just a few minutes. The stories of these 75 Olympians teach us how to eliminate negative thinking, to focus our attention on what is important, and how to overcome obstacles to reach our goals. Motivational Moments in 2012 Olympic Track and Field is written for those who are currently competing, coaching, have participated in track and field, or are simply a track and field or sports fan. The questions at the end of the stories are designed to encourage, challenge, teach, and enable you to grow as you apply these principles to athletics and to the bigger game of life.
