

CJS Hayward: The Complete Works (The best works of CJS Hayward)

A QUOTE: A Pilgrimage from Narnia Wardrobe of fur coats and fir trees: Sword and armor, castle and throne, Talking beast and Cair Paravel: From there began a journey, From thence began a trek, Further up and further in! The mystic kiss of the Holy Mysteries, A many-hued spectrum of saints, Where the holiness of the One God unfurls, Holy icons and holy relics: Tales of magic reach for such things and miss, Sincerely erecting an altar, To an unknown god, Enchantment but the shadow whilst these are realities: Whilst to us is bidden enjoy Reality Himself. Further up and further in! A journey of the heart, barely begun, Anointed with chrism, like as prophet, priest, king, A slow road of pain and loss, Giving up straw to receive gold: Further up and further in! Lord Jesus Christ, have mercy on me, a sinner, Silence without, building silence within: The prayer of the mind in the heart, Prayer without minds images and eye before holy icons, A simple Way, a lifes work of simplicity, Further up and further in! A camel may pass through the eye of a needle, Only by shedding every possession and kneeling humbly, Book-learning and technological power as well as possessions, Prestige and things that are yours Even all that goes without saying: To grow in this world one becomes more and more; To grow in the Way one becomes less and less: Further up and further in! God and the Son of God became Man and the Son of Man, That men and the sons of men might become gods and the sons of God:
The chief end of mankind, Is to glorify God and become him forever. The mysticism in the ordinary, Not some faroff exotic place, But here and now, Living where God has placed us, Lifting where we are up into Heaven: Paradise is wherever holy men are found. Escape is not possible: Yet escape is not needed, But our active engagement with the here and now, And in this here and now we move, Further up and further in! We are summoned to war against dragons, Sins, passions, demons: Unseen warfare beyond that of fantasy: For the combat of knights and armor is but a shadow: Even this world is a shadow, Compared to the eternal spoils of the victor in warfare unseen, Compared to the eternal spoils of the man whose heart is purified, Compared to the eternal spoils of the one who rejects activism: Fighting real dragons in right order, Slaying the dragons in his own heart, And not chasing (real or imagined) snakelets in the world around: Starting to remove the log from his own eye, And not starting by removing the speck from his brothers eye: Further up and further in! Spake a man who suffered sorely: For I reckon that the sufferings of this present time, Are not worthy to be compared with the glory which shall be revealed in us, and: Know ye not that we shall judge angels? For the way of humility and tribulation we are beckoned to walk, Is the path of greatest glory. We do not live in the best of all possible worlds, But we have the best of all possible Gods, And live in a world ruled by the him, And the most painful of his commands, Are the very means to greatest glory, Exercise to the utmost is a preparation, To strengthen us for an Olympic gold medal, An instant of earthly apprenticeship, To a life of Heaven that already begins on earth: He saved others, himself he cannot save, Remains no longer a taunt filled with blasphemy: But a definition of the Kingdom of God, Turned to gold, And God sees his sons as more precious than gold: Beauty is forged in the eye of the Beholder: Further up and further in! When I became a man, I put away childish things: Married or monastic, I must grow out of self-serving life: For if I have self-serving life in me, What room is there for the divine life? If I hold straw with a death grip, How will God give me living gold? Further up and further in! WHAT THIS BOOK IS ABOUT: The entire published works of CJS Hayward are
